Professor Kyle reports as follows under date April 13th, 1881—
"After a careful analysis I can confirm the statement made by the manufacturers that this preparation is entirely free from Arsenic or other mineral poison. The Dip contains neither soap nor caustic alkalies. As is well-known, the use of the former in the preparation of Sheep Dip is attended with the inconvenience that the employment of the hard waters so common in the country causes their decomposition and leads to the separation of the oils in the bath, whilst the latter injures the wool and renders it harsh. In short I consider Gillard's Sheep Dip to be a good article, free from mineral poisons, deadly to all parasites of the Sheep and other domestic animals, a CERTAIN PREVENTIVE AND CURE FOR SCAB and when applied according to the directions in no way injurious to man or the Sheep."

Telegrams from Constantinople announce an important victory by the Turks over the revolted Albanians. This is considered here as a guarantee that the Porte is in a position to make good his engagements with the respecting of the settlement of the Greek Question.

THE CORRIENTES MURDER.

ONE ASSASSIN CAUGHT.

One of the best proofs of the generally improved state of affairs in this country is the very decided action taken by the authorities in the case of the murder of the two Scotch farmers at Naranjitos, Corrientes.

The very day the news reached this city and the matter was brought to the attention of the National Government by Sir Horace Rum, bold, who not only wrote a note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs on the matter, but took the note himself to the Minister, President Roca despatched a telegram to the Governor of Entre Rios, which telegram we have already published, as also the Governor's reply. President Roca, finding that the murder was perpetrated in Corrientes, and not Entre Rios, at once despatched a fresh telegram to the Governor of Corrientes, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs received a reply on Friday night from the Governor, who stated that every step possible to catch the assassins had been taken and that a telegram from the Gefe Politico of Monte Caseros had just arrived announcing that one of the assassins is caught. The Governor of Corrientes, in his message, says that every step possible will be taken to bring the other murderers to justice, and we believe the probabilities are they will all be caught.

Steps were taken by the British Minister to appoint a curator to look after the property of the murdered men, and Mr Smart, the manager of the East Argentine Railway, was requested to designate the proper person to act as curator.

Of all the many terrible murders it has been our melancholy task to record, we think we may safely say this is the first instance where the authorities, one and all, have shown a determination to catch the assassins. The British Minister, the Minister of Foreign Affairs and even the President himself, have been daily in the receipt of telegrams on the subject, and let us hope now that, when the assassins are caught, they will be at once tried and, if convicted, summarily executed. President Roca has expressed his determination to have full ustice done in the matter. The following are the latest details of this terrible crime:—

Salto, April 20th.

Dear G.

I went up to Corrientes, as you already know, to learn some particulars of the sad affair, and to see how things stood &c. It appears that on the night of the 12th inst. about 8 o'clock more or less, two men called at Guthrie and McDonald's rancho, and asked for 'posada,' which was granted; they then unsaddled, tied their horses out, came back to the house, and one of them took his boots off and put on slippers. This one was well dressed, silver recado, stirrups &c., and talked 'muy politico.' The other was not so well dressed and appeared to be a peon. Guthrie asked them if they had eaten and they said they had not; he then told his wife to make them an 'asado', which she did, the peon eating in the kitchen, and the other at the door of the house and talking with Guthrie and McDonald about camp etc. After eating the roast Guthrie said to the man (if he can be called on) you will please excuse me putting the bed outside, as the house is so small; so he took out the 'catre' and put it about 15 yards from the house near a little 'remanada,' and returned for a mattrass to make up a bed, and when in the act of arranging the mattrass the fellow went behind him, caught him either by the hair or collar, and at the same time cut the poor fellow's throat from ear to ear; he fell instantly and half raised himself on one leg; seeing this his wife got a revolver and was running out to Guthrie when McDonald took it from her, thinking, perhaps, he could do more with it, or else to give it to Guthier then the wife ran to poor Guthrie and got hold of him when he fell dead, covering her with his blood. She then ran into the house, took up her child and crossed into a wild potrero, passing an arroyo up to her neck in water, to get to a house about 4 squares off. When McDonald came out, he may have been stabbed, whilst passing the doorway, by the man in the kitchen, as the neighbour and wife say that eight shots were fired; if McDonald fired them all, he fired without aim, as the night was as clear as day. If he was stabbed coming out of the house, of course that would account for it, but still I don't think he was, as Jose Maria Fonseca told me that he was stabbed under each breast, and the wounds so large as to put your hand in either—and if he got them while coming out of the house he must have fallen at once; his head was almost severed from his body, also, and between the thumb and first four fingers there was a great gash, and it was supposed that McDonald had caught one of their facones. Next morning Jose M Fonseca with the Comisario, Juez de Paz etc., had the bodies put in coffins and sent them on to Monte Ca-

seros. Fonseca attended to the taking of the inventory, and all papers etc, that were there are in the room and the door sealed, A capataz and two peons are in charge of the sheep and cattle. There are 2268 sheep, 133 head of cattle, 23 horses and mares (17 horses). Mrs Guthrie is at Fonseca's and wants me to look to her interests, but who is to represent McDonald's family; perhaps Mr Clarke can, he may have McDonald's will if he made on in Buenos Aires when he was there, and wanted to give you a 'poder,' however, tell Mr Clarke what I say. The contract of the sociedad may be with the papers in the house or at Coll y Sarda's, where McDonald had money. I think Guthrie entered with $1200 and McDonald was to put $7,000. Guthrie to pay MacDonald 3 p % per annum for difference of capital, so as the capital in stock is only what I say, all Guthrie's capital will have been invested this; the books ought to show, if then Guthrie to manage etc. and gains on halves.

The capital in stock as you see is small, but the sooner something is done the better for all concerned, as the stock will get big, Juez expenses increase etc. and make the matter more difficult to deal with. What I think best to be done is, if Mr. C. is not executor ot any will McDonald might have made and no will existing, he might get a power to name somebody to represent McDonald's interests and signed by some one of influence in B. Aires. This done, get the sheep etc. passed into Entre Rios and sold on this side (as in Corrientes there are no buyers) report proceeds and see how things stand, and arrange matters. I dont know how much money there will be in Coll & Sarda's, but this is all right. They were building a new house, 16x12 vs, it was ready to be thatched; the work was contracted for at $100, nothing paid on account. Another man had received 300 sheep on shares some 20 days ago, also.

I went to the house with Felipe Fonseca, to save sheep etc. Where Guthrie fell there was as much blood as if a sheep had been killed. Where McDonald fell there was not much blood; probably from the stabs the blood would keep inwards. I believe they had money, so Mrs. G. says—sovereigns and condors in a bag. The murderers took McDonald's gold watch and chain, his gold ring, revolver, shirts &c.; Guthrie's recado, black clothes, whip, shirts etc., cut mattresses open and took everything they could; they left McDonald's saddle. A colder-blooded affair than this could not have been done. The Fonsecas have done everything in their power and are as sorry as if the deceased were their brothers. Mrs Guthrie is staying there. The Gefe of Monte Caseros, Jose Maria Casco is after the fellows night and day; no maz could possibly do more than he is doing, and he has taken 30 bandidos prisoners, stretched them out etc, but has not got the thread yet; if they are to be found, he is the man for it. I was with him at Fonseca's. Mrs Guthrie gave me the description of the men, and this morning I gave same to Mr Viera (Comisario here), also description of recado, ring etc, old English watch. Mr Viera will advise all the Comisarios, in case the murderers have passed over here. Excuse this long epistle, but it is necessary at times.

BIBLIOGRAPHY.

Mr Roque Barcia, a Spanish savant and well known litterateur has begun a gigantic enterprise in the shape of a dictionary of the etymology of the Spanish language; apart from the arduous task specified by etymology, the Spanish savant has included in his work political and physical geography on a limited scale. This work will produce a sensation in the literary world, owing to its already manifold merits and the grandeur of the task. All the philologists of the day have subscribed to the work, and Mr J. M Larsen, of the Buenos Aires University, one of the most learned men in the Republic and perhaps the best philologist, has criticised the first publications of Dr Barcia's work.

A man who enters upon such an important enterprise as the etymology of a language, must indeed boast merits off the common: such a task requires an intimate knowledge of most languages and their roots; it is therefore, not to be wondered if Mr Larsen, in his criticism on this work, finds many deficiencies which corroborate the saying of 'aliquando dormitat Homerus.' A man may be more enlightened than others, but he is always sure to meet his match.

As Mr Larsen well remarks, Mr Barcia has sought to include too much in this work: thus the treatises on geography are magnificent as regards style, but they have actually nothing to do with the etymology of language. History is also partially included and the reader is rather astonished when he peruses an able article upon the reign of some French King, who has nothing whatever to do with the object of the work. These and many other minor matters are deficiencies which only form a greater contrast to the importance of the work—but they are always deficiencies.

Where the reader expects a reliable authority in etymology he is rather astonished, when perusing Dr Larsen's criticism, to see a superficiality too glaring to be glossed over. Mr Barcia, when alluding to the Latin of the Middle Ages, quotes St. Cyril, de Papias, de Filoxeno and even Arrius, who were all Greek writers: furthermore he refers to St Basil as a Latin author. We cannot conceive how such an authority as the author of the work is supposed to be, could make such a mistake.

Dr Larsen touches a very sore point when he ably points to the very deficient division of languages. According to the author, the fifth group of languages is formed by the Slav, the branches of the old Teutonic and the four Celtic languages, therein entirely overlooking the Manx and Irish. Another mistake consists in calling Cornish the Cornulian language; the latter is a dead language. Amongst other heresies the author gives one to understand that language is revealed, since, according to him, Adam, by divine orders, gave each animal a name, and that since that day languages were formed.

The history of the alphabet is open to severe and well-deserved criticism. Referring to the Phoenician alphabet, Mr Barcia asserts that it comprises 24 signs, and that all the neighbors of the Phoenicians realized the miracle of speaking with 24 elemental sounds. But such is not the case. The Canaanite alphabet of the Moabites had 21 sounds, and as many signs with 'variantes' in the drawings; besides, that of the medals of the Maccabees only counts 18, whilst the Punic has 20 sounds and signs with varieties; the Palmyrian has 22 sounds and signs in equal conditions. Such a sweeping assertion as that of the author deserves the rebuke it has eloquently called forth.

M. Bacia, after describing the Greek alphabet, states that the Greeks went to Egypt and created Koptic, passed to the coast of Italy and created the Etruscan, ascended later on to Dalmatia and produced the Slav; subsequently in Rome it creates the Latin alphabet, which event took place in the year 1860, A.D., about the time of Arcadius Evander. The plain facts are, that the Greeks, at the time of the Ptolemies, applied their alphabet to the Egyptian language. As regards Dalmatia, the Greek alphabet gave rise to the Slav alphabet, but on no account can it be inferred that it created the Slav language, as the reader is led to suppose. Evander, the Arcadian, did not import the Latin alphabet, the Phœnicians gave rise to same. As well might one say that Æneas created the alphabet. What is very probable is, that the alphabet arose from the communication of the inhabitants of Cumae, Palepolis or Parthenope with those of Latium.

The author asserts that the Manchû alphabet has 32 characters, but it is known to possess 38 sounds and as many characters. As regards the Ethiopian alphabet, he states that it has a system of 33 sounds, quite overlooking the fact that it possesses besides seven diphthongs; thus there are forty, which, multiplied by seven, as it is a riogorous syllable language, makes a total of 280 letters, the knowledge of which is necessary in order to write the language.

The theory of human sounds is most wonderfully expounded; the number of same, according to the author, would be limited to 50. Mr Sweet counted 125 and Prince Bonaparte 390. The Spanish language alone possesses 42 different sounds, not to mention the original sounds in other languages, which would soon sum up a total vastly superior to the 50, as stated in the dictionary.

We are unable to follow Mr Larsen in his able and scientific criticism on the individual words, in this important dictionary. Mr Larsen has proved that there are many defects and errors in the 800 first pages of the work, calculated to fill four or five thousand. Verily one man cannot carry out a work like this, and the defects reflect upon the negligence of the author. The philologists of the day will read Mr Larsen's views on the subject with interest, as they display a knowledge of language and roots and an erudition which would entitle him on the continent to the very highest rank amongst the European scientific men of the day.

LATEST FROM CHILE.

THE INDIAN INVASION.

A southern paper says it would appear that the expedition to the Cautin has accomplished nothing, so far. A letter dated Angol, March 4th, says that a general rising of the Indians is apprehended. It was known that they meditated making a simultaneous attack on the troops and the forts. Large bodies of Indians cover all the line from Traiguen to Los Sauces. A fearful panic reigns in all the neighboring places. On the 4th two carts arrived at Angol full of bodies of cartmen and soldiers killed by Indians a few days previously. They had also killed the subdelegate at Puren The Indians have committed a thousand other atrocities, owing to the mild and tolerant policy of Sr Recabarren, who has refused, so far, to sanction any measures of reprisal. Numerous desertions are reported to have taken place in the army, and the want of an experienced military man at the head of affairs is every day more strongly felt.

The Revista del Sur says—Respectable persons arrived from the frontier, among them Mr Poisson, say that the line is seriously menaced by the Araucanians. The Recabarren expedition had a fight on the banks of the Gautin. The Indians fought with their accustomed bravery and intrepidity. Six or eight soldiers were killed. There is danger.

Other persons who have arrived say that the Indians on this side of the Gautin were making preparations to attack the Recabarren expedition in the rear. They are united with the Indians on the other side of the Gautin. These persons say that when about to leave Angol they learned on good authority that a train of thirty carts which had started from Nacimiento was attacked by Indians and destroyed. The cartmen were killed, and their bodies were stripped. The escort fought well, but owing to its being so few in number, was not able to accomplish much.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday was rather a brisk day in the sailing and leave-taking way. The La France cleared for Europe and the Villarino for Bahia Blanca. The latter vessel was crowded with new sheep and cattle farmers Southward bound. The South is the land of the future. Two years ago Bahia Blanca was considered an out-of-the-way spot that only a knowing few ever thought of: these few are now entering on their reward, but only 'entering' on it: the future down there will be immense.

The first news we had yesterday was most grateful, viz, the capture of one of the murderers of poor Mc Donald and Guthrie, by the Corrientes police. If Governor Gallino now catches the other assassin and has both of them tried and shot without any of that fatal loss of time that has become chronic in the Plate when justice on murderers is in question, he will do an inestimable service to his country by showing foreign settlers that, in his province at least, the punishment for assassination is short, sharp and decisive. We expect this. Further particulars of this sad murder will be found in another column.

The news from Montevideo is now eagerly watched every day. There was nothing specially fresh yesterday, except that the electioneering question is getting more bitter hourly. The 'Nacionalistas' declare that the scrutineers of votes being all Colorados, they wont go to the poll. What a loss to their country!

The Epoca, a new opposition evening paper, whose programme is 'the revindication of the political personality of the Province of Buenos Aires' (whatever this high-sounding phrase may mean) is announced to appear on May 1st. We shall be glad to welcome our new colleague, but warn him that politics are going out of fashion and no longer pays.

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Hughes, relict of the late Mr. John Hughes, of this city. The sad event took place on Friday, and the funeral yesterday morning, in the British Cemetery, the Rev. Dr Smith, M.A., M.D., officiating. The deceased lady, who was a daughter of the late Mr. Tidblom, was 60 years of age, and had been ailing for many years: she was held in the highest regard and esteem by a large circle of friends who will long regret her loss. Death has been sadly busy among our English matrons of late.

Application was made to Government yesterday to rent 16 leagues of land in the Gran Chaco, south of Formoso, for a large sheep and cattle estancia. The Chaco is progressing faster than many people are aware of.

Mr. Adolfo Negrotto, who gave his pupils and their friends such a splendid turn-out at the Florida Gardens last summer, has been obliged, owing to the rapid increase in the number of his scholars, to remove from Calle Tacuari to more spacious premises. He has taken the magnificent edifice, No. 530 Calle Cangallo (between Libertad and Talcahuano) built by the late Mr Wanklyn, a perfect palace, in which the ventilation, space and other things indispensable to the pupils health, and which are too often neglected in school premises, are found to perfection. We recommend parents and guardians to call on Mr Negrotto and take a look at his educational palace.

There will be a general meeting of the members of the General Brown Club to-morrow evening, at No. 212 Reconquista. It is hoped that the members generally will make it a point to attend.

Several members of Congress have arrived in town, and we respectfully salute the National law-makers This week many others are expected, and the session will open very early in May. Honourable Senators and Deputies have a busy session before them, but they will, happily, have none of the unpleasant duties of last year to perform, and will be able to combine business and pleasure to their hearts' content, as the coming winter promises to be one of the gayest ever known in Buenos Aires in its High Life circles, to say nothing of two Italian opera companies, a French one, Sarah Bernhardt, Rubenstein the pianist, and some say Salvini. 'Vive la joie!'

With pleasure we correct the error of a colleague respecting Mr. Bachmann's immediate departure for Europe. Mr. B. has only just returned from there and was married last night to Miss Maria Quirno, and purposes spending the honeymoon in this city. Mr. B. is the talented editor of the German paper.

Over 200 Italian opera artists left Genoa yesterday on board the Umberto, for this port—the joint companies for the Colon and Politeama.

The welcome rain came down yesterday at 2 o'clock, preceded by an advanced guard of dust which rendered an appeal to gas necessary in all the offices in town. Estancieros brightened up under the influence of the 'agua,' and the roling thunder was as music from the spheres in their ears.

The European papers refer to a curious instance of what the whirligig of time brings about. France is again being invaded by the Germans, but the latter now are not in arms and pour over 'La belle France' in search of the employment they cannot find at home. The French cafes and hotels are now as full of German civilians as they were of German soldiers during the war.

A subscriber called our attention yesterday to the fact that, on the recent appointment of a new Clerk of the Pantry or head butler at Windsor Castle it was found that the contents of Her Majesty's private plate chest are worth something over three millions sterling! There is one large dinner set of pure gold, and all the pieces are works of the highest art, irrespective of the value of the metal. If we could get up a 'despensa' of this kind here, we might soon reopen the 'Oficina de Cambios.' There used to be a lot of silver plate in the Plate, but we believe it has all been replaced by plated ware, and the cash ifuddled away.

ON 'CHANGE.

April 23rd, 1881

Patacones	28.75
Cedulas A	94
National Bank Shares	82½

The gold market still shakes although the very heavy liquidation at the end of next week keeps up the ring, the black board and the bulls. To-day the market would have caved in on time, but for the duffers who early in the month sold short and now have to buy back, or pay 15 to 20 cents to carry the gold over till the end of May. From the general appearance of the market it seems probable that prices this month will be maintained, but next month we may look for a drop. The gold discount is now not the only question for the Bank Board. The fair supply of gold for this market is the topic, and the Board will have to bring some of its gold that lies idle in London out to this market. Some brokers stated on 'Change that on Monday the Provincial Bank Board will begin to discount in gold, so that parties who require such discounts should send in their solicitudes before 11 o'clock a.m. on Monday morning.

Gold opened to-day at 28.70 cash and closed at 28.75. Cash sales, 130,500 pats. For end of month 265,000 pats. sold, opening at 28.65 and closing at 28.75, and for June at 28.70.

Cedulas are at last beginning to move, and the business to-day reached 118,800 pats.; the stock looks firm and upward spits of the great efforts of the bears to keep the market down by offering large amounts on long dates at low rates; nevertheless ready Cedulas are scarce and have to be paid for. Cash price 94.

National Bank Shares rule very firm and few offering; buyers for lots on time, but few sellers; prices cash opened at 82½ and closed at 82½, and for May at 83½.

The clearance of the La France for Europe and the Villarino for Bahia Blanca was the business of the day. It was perfectly astonishing to see the number of people leaving for the far South in the Villarino. A new trade seems suddenly to have sprung up with those parts, which shows the great movement going on down there. Governor Alvaro Barros left in her for Patagones and Mr Jose Atkins for San Blas. The Villarino was unable to take all the cargo offering. Soon Bahia Blanca will want one of Lumport & Holt's steamers.

Cedulas rule very firm and are looking up. National Bank Shares, buyers 82½ cash, 82⅝ end of month, and 84½ for July; few sellers and many brokers hold orders over for Monday, being unable to fill them to-day.

The rain to-day has proved a very great Godsend and has put the estancieros in good humour, as the camps were very dry and in some parts the pasturages suffering by the drought.

The sale of a cargo of salted hides, from Berisso's saladero, was spoken of on reserved terms.

Large payments were made on 'Change to-day for produce sold during the week; the tables were so crowded that many parties had to count their money on the benches.

People appear to be making too much money in the Plata. The La France took to-day 500 passengers for a trip to Europe, all people well to do, with money in both pockets. The Nurenberg, German Lloyd steamer, we hear, will take another 150 passengers, all on a pleasure trip to Europe to return when winter over and money spent.

Telegrams from Antwerp received this morning give 2nd and 3rd day's auction; prima 30 c/o wool, 1.55. The wools selling on those days were from North and South Market.

The Rosse loads for Bremen and London, sailing on May 1st. The Archimedes expected at Montevideo to-morrow from Liverpool

Captain Kermode, of the str. Rosse, was welcomed on 'Change. Mr Jaime Olbils, who has arrived down from his magnificent estate in Matto Grosso, was enveloped in friends when he entered the Bolsa; he gives a glowing description of the Upper Paraguay and surrounding country. Mr Fremery, one of our leading barraqueros, sailed to-day for Europe in La France.

Exchange nothing done to-day, no bills over, but for Portella's mails a large business will probably be done.

The failure of a colonist in a large way in the Esperanza colony is spoken of.

The Forward has left Colonia for Montevideo. The Dwarf left there to-day for Colonia and next week goes up the river with the British Minister, of Montevideo, and Capt. Jones.

Applications for 200 passages from Europe have come down from the colonies to bring out the friends of the colonists. We understand the National Government will grant them. Money well spent.

Johnson Garbisso & Co. chartered the German brig Sophie Luisa to load salted hides at San Nicolas for Channel f.o. at 30s and 5 o/o

The well known establishment in Calle Rivadavia, called Tattersall's, has been partially changed into a deposit of agricultural machinery; the site is well adapted to the purpose. All the machinery in the establishment is manufactured by the renowned Messrs Ruston Roltar & Co., of whom Messrs Forrester & Co. are agents. In the spacious department are to be seen two very fine threshing machines with their corresponding engines of eight and six horse power; there are besides a corn-grinder, which can be worked by horses or steam, a flour and saw-mill, all of the latest invention. A beautiful stationary engine especially attracts the attention, it can work up to ten horse power; the engine is magnificently finished and is worth seeing. As the Tattersalls is so large it is to be hoped that the machinery department will be enlarged. Several of the machines have already been sold, amongst others a fine threshing machine with engine and a steam motor of 6 horse power. Wheat mowers and other agricultural implements are also to be seen.

Our Boca Correspondent gives the following:—

"The fine Amer. barque Samuel B Hale, under the command of the well known Captain Haven, left our port on Thursday, and the roads yesterday about 4 o'clock p.m.

"She takes a splendid cargo of hides and bales for Boston, U. States, embarked by the enterprising firm of C S Roberts & Co.

"The Amer. barque Celina is in Samuel B Hale's old berth, also loading for the United States.

"The Governor honoured the Boca with a visit to-day."

The following clearance reported:—
Ital. barque Emilio for England by Messrs Tomkinson Dungey & Co. with 393,548 kilos bones and 36,500 kilos bone-ash.

Disasters, &c.—
Brig H H Wright, which cleared from this port February 17th, for B. Aires, returned on the 24th, having been aground on False Hook. Upon examination it was ascertained that she had sustained no damage, and she proceeded to sea.

Much anxiety is felt for the safety of barque Emma C Litchfield, which sailed from St. Mary's, August 14th, for B. Aires, and has not since been heard from.

The following late news about the Antwerp produce market, from Messrs Bunge & Co. of that city, under date March 24th, 1881, is important:—

Wool—
Since we last reported demand has been more regular, owners being obliged to make concessions of a certain importance to effect sales; bids which were refused during the last auctions have now been accepted and in some instances even 5 centimes less. We thus can state a decline of fully 10 centimes on prices paid during the public sales in January last; at these rates now established buyers seem to have more confidence, notwithstanding this it is uncertain whether the lowest point has been touched or not, stocks being heavy everywhere and news from the manufacturing districts, especially in France, are still little encouraging.

From the London sales, which will close on 26th inst., reports continue to be favourable, buyers allowing prices paid at the opening.

The following is now our statistical position:—

		Bales.
Stock on 10th March, 1881		34,375
	Bales.
Arrivals from Buenos Aires	4,662

Sales by private contract	2,346
Public sales	—
Transit	2,845	5,191
Stock to-day		34,274

Sheepskins—
Demand has continued very light at weakening prices.
Sales, 26 bales.
Stock, 869 bales.
Hides—
The market has been active during the fortnight under review, and a pretty fair amount of transactions has taken place; the deficit in the killings now appears to have a certain influence on the market in general. Arrivals are moderate, and our stock has now been reduced to about 97,000 hides; buyers show more disposition to operate, holders are firm and have obtained prices showing a rise of fully 1 franc on the rates paid since we last reported. Dry hides continue to attract but little attention on account of the little choice which the stock offers.

The following lots have been sold to arrive: All the hides of 20-25 kilos out of 1,000 B. Aires matadero ox, 65 lbs., and of 220 B. Aires matadero ox, 62 lbs., per Elbe at secret prices.

1,500 B. Aires saladero ox, 68.5 lb., per Pascal at fs.76 for 15-25 kilos. fs.83 for 26-32 kilos, and fs.79 for 32-40 kilos.

Kergord, Liebig's first cargo consisting of 7,920 saladero ox, 65½ lb., and 813 saladero ox, 58,80 lb., at fs.76 for heavy and fs.70 for light.

Killings in South America on 16th instant amounted to 341,000, against 722,000 head at the same time last year.

Tallow—
No sales to mention; there are, however, buyers in the market, but the difference between their bids and owners prices prevents business. We quote mutton fs.36-38; for ox fs.39 is wanted.

Stock, 634 pipes, 200 hogsheads beef; 90 pipes and 11 hogsheads mutton.

Hidecuttings—
Transactions have been limited at unchanged prices.

Sales, 34 bales.
Stock, 208 bales.

Hair—
Somewhat more neglected and prices are weaker.

Sales amount to 57 bales and 35 bags.
Stock, 626 bales and 65 bags.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 22d.

You may remember in one of my first letters, about native sugar, I prognosticated a rapid increase in the production, but at the same time I expressed a fear that lack of labourers would very probably paralyse enterprises on a large scale. People did not seem to have taken into consideration that though it is easy enough to make any number of cane plantations, and also easy to raise the money for machinery, &c., these are practically of no value without hands. A sugar plantation requires a large number of labourers, and of that class which can stand constant labour and exposure in the burning sun. Science has not yet invented a reaping machine for cane, or even a machine for stripping the husk or bark off. This has to be done on the field, and the work, if not heavy, is wearisome and slow, and requires many hands to keep the capacious and rapid machinery of the boiling-house going. This season's crop will require at least ten times the number of hands as did that of say 1878; and where are they to come from? The people of Tucuman are already beginning to ask that question. Sugar manufacture has merely, as it were, made a commencement, and already we hear of scarcity of labour. And this is logical, for there are comparatively few of the inhabitants of this country who would adapt themselves to the work of a sugar plantation.

With reference to the question of labour, I think that Corrientes and the Misiones possess an advantage over the mediterranean provinces, that is if it be proved that the cane becomes fully developed in the former. The Correntinos and Paraguayans would, I fancy, make the best hands on a plantation. When, however, the production, instead of a million of ar., shall amount to five or ten millions, I expect we shall have to do as other non-slavery countries do, import Coolie labour.

In Rosario there have been formed two or three companies for the sugar business: one of them, as I understand, will make Corrientes their scene of operations. The proposed, English company made no proselytes in Rosario. The reason is natural. The half-dozen or dozen of capitalists who are willing to invest consider that as a sugar plantation can be established for about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, there is no necessity for more than three or four partners, who can attend to the business themselves without the paraphernalia and expense of Directors, &c. Still, doubtless, a large amount of English capital will soon be invested in this most lucrative business, either by individual enterprise or by companies; and the working of a large English company would, undoubtedly, give a powerful impetus to this growing and promising industry.

The Inspector of Colonies in Santa Fe has published his report for 1880. Were it not that we know how carelessly these reports are got up and how little faith is to be placed in them, this last would be an important document. As it is there is a good deal of interesting data which we may take as trustworthy.

The population for instance stands thus—

Argentines.....	19,441
Italians.....	15,482
Swiss.....	4,178
French	2,295
German.....	1,731
Other nationalities..	2,453
In all.....	45,580

showing an increase in five years of 24,042. It is presumable that a great majority of those put down as Argentines are children of the foreign colonists, born in this country.

The crop of wheat is calculated at 473,591 fanegas of fifteen arrobas, or nearly three millions of bushels, taken off 320,000 acres, which, if the data correct, would give an average of nine bushels to the acre, which, I am inclined to think, is nearly right as far as the average is concerned.

The increase of animals in the last five years indicates a growing prosperity. In 1876 they were to the number of 199,000. This year they count up to 547,733.

There are 98 steam threshers, and 27 of horse power, 39 steam mills, 3009 reapers and 12,000 ploughs.

The statement of the value, in pesos fuertes which is put on the property of the Colonies we must receive 'cum grano.'

It is as follows—

Land and Improvements	10,973,128
Animals	4,806,731
Mills, machinery and implements.....	4,300,300
	20,170,213

Twenty millions of hard dollars?

If the data as to the wheat crop be reliable, then the money coming into the province from this course alone, and only from the colonies is upwards of four millions of dollars; but I believe the wheat yield is exaggerated. We glean enough, however, from this report to prove the rapid progress of the Colonies of foreigners in the province of Santa Fe; a progress unparalleled in any part of the world on the same extention of territory and in the same period.

The Parana is slowly falling after a long period of high water.

The Provincial Government has given a decree prohibiting the exportation of produce of any kind without a permit from the Police authorities. I cannot say what they mean by it, but it appears to me to be a high-handed act on the part of the Government. But we need not to be surprised at any thing here, where the Executive is omnipotent and acknowledges no restraint whatever.

W.P.

THE PEERAGE FOR 1881.

A GLANCE THROUGH THE PAGES OF BURKE AND DOD, AND THE ODD OR INTERESTING FACTS THEY CONTAIN.

The year 1880 witnessed an unusually large number of changes in the English peerage, baronetage and knightage. No less than seventeen new creations were recorded during the twelvemonth, though three of these were only promotions, Lord Beaconsfield making Lord Lytton the Earl of Lytton, Lord Skelmersdale the Earl of Lathom, and Baron Sondes Earl Sondes. Baron Watson's, too, was only a law peerage. In addition to these, the retiring premier called Viscount Holmesdale to the House of Lords in his father's barony of Amherst; conferred the barony of Shute on an Irish nobleman, Viscount Barrington: gave the Duke of Portland's stepmother the title of Baroness Bolsover, and made the following peers: Baron Haldon (Sir Lawrence Palk), Baron Wimborne (Sir Ivor Guest), Baron Ardilaun (Sir Arthur Guinness), Baron Lamington (Mr Baillie-Cochrane), Baron Donington (Mr Abney Hastings), Baron Trevor (Lord Arthur Hill-Trevor), and Baron Rowton (Mr Montagu Corry). During his second administration Lord Beaconsfield conferred thirty-nine titles, including the dukedoms of Connaught and Gordon and his own earldom, to say nothing of the imperial rank to which he promoted his sovereign Last year Mr Gladstone made 'Bob' Lowe Viscount Sherbrooke, Mr Knatchbull Bugessen Baron Brabourne and Mr Cowper Temple Lord Mount Temple. The next peers, it is understood, are to be Lord Odo Russell and Sir Harcourt Johnstone, who retired from Scarborough to give Mr Dodson a seat. During his first administration Mr Gladstone added 36 names to the peerage among his creations being the Duke of Westminster, the Marquis of Ripon, the Earl of Dufferin and the Baroness Burdett-Coutts. The year 1880 saw more new creations and promotions than any since 1831, when 18 names were added to the roll of the peerage.

The deaths of 1880 included sixteen peers and one peeress in her own right—the Dowager Countess Cowper, whose barony of Lucas descended to her son, Earl Cowper. Two titles became extinct—those of Rivers and Stratford de Redcliffe, borne by members of the political families of Pitt and Canning. The giving of the barony of Shute to Viscount Barrington, an Irish peer, leads to a peculiar state of things by reducing the number of peers of Ireland, exclusively such, to 100, at which point an important clause in the act of Union comes into operation authorizing the Crown to fill up any further gap so as to keep up the peerage of Ireland to the number of 100. Upon the roll of the lords at the opening of the second session of the twenty-second Parliament of the United Kingdom there are 517 names, but as six lords (Lord Selborne, Earl Spencer, the Duke of Argyll, Earl Sydney, the Earl of Kenmare and the Earl of Erne) are twice named, the total number of lords, spiritual and temporal, is 511. Of these, 4 are princes of the Blood Royal, 2 are archbishops, 22 are dukes, 19 are marquises, 138 are earls, 32 are viscounts, 24 are bishops and 270 are barons. The first name on the roll is that of the Prince of Wales, who is followed by the Royal Dukes of Edinburgh, Connaught and Cambridge, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Lord Selborne (Lord Chancellor), the Archbishop of York, Earl Spencer (Lord President of the Council), and the Duke of Argyll [Lord Privy Seal]. The premier duke is the Duke of Norfolk, Earl-Marshal of England; the junior, the Duke of Westminster. The premier marquis is the Marquis of Winchester; the junior, the Marquis of Abergavenny. Earl Sydney, as Lord Steward, comes first in the roll of earls, followed by the Earls of Shrewsbury and Derby; the junior earl is Earl Sondes. The premier viscount is Viscount Hereford; the junior, Viscount Sherbrooke. Of the bishops the Bishop of London comes first, and the Bishop of St. David's last, the Bishops of Rochester, Truro Lichfield and Liverpool not yet having seats in the House. The Earl of Kenmare, (who, being an Irish earl, sits as Lord of Kenmare) comes first in the roll of barons, as Lord Chamberlain, followed by Lord de Ros and Lord Mowbray; the junior baron is Lord Brabourne.

People who are interested in personal statistics may care to know that the oldest Privy Councillor is Sir John Macpherson Macleod, aged 88, and the youngest Prince Leopold, aged 27. The oldest duke is the Duke of Cleveland, aged 77; the youngest, the Duke of Newcastle, aged 16. Of marquises, the oldest is the Marquis of Donegal—83; the youngest the Marquis Camden—8. The oldest earl is the Earl of Buckinghamshire—86; the youngest is Earl Russel—15. (Courtesy titles, of course, are not included, else we should have the Earl of Arundel and Surrey, heir of the Duke of Norfolk, born in 1879). The oldest viscount is Lord Eversley, aged 86 (he was Speaker of the Commons from 1839 to 1857 as Sir Charles Shaw-Lefevre; the youngest is Lord Southwell, aged 7. The oldest baron is Lord Mostyn—86; the youngest, Lord Southampton—13. Of the English bishops the oldest is Dr Olivant, Bishop of Llandaff—82; the youngest is Dr Hill, Bishop of Sodor and Man—44. In the Irish Episcopal Church the oldest prelate is Dr Darley, Bishop of Kilmore—80; the youngest is Dr R S Gregg, Bishop of Cork—46. In the Scotch Episcopal Church the extremes of the age are represented by Dr Eden, Bishop of Moray and Ross (Primus)—76, and Dr Mackarness, Bishop of Argyll and the Isles—57. The oldest baronet is the venerable Sir Moses Montefiore—98; the youngest is Sir Thomas Lewis Hughes Neave—6. The oldest knight is Sir Duncan MacGregor, aged 93, who entered the army in 1800; the youngest is Sir Ludlow Cotter, aged 27, who was knighted in accordance with a special privilege contained in the patent of his father's baronetcy. Of the judges, Vice-Chancellor Sir James Bacon, Chief Judge in Bankruptcy, aged 82, is the oldest, and Sir Charles S C Bowen, of the Queen's Bench Division, aged 44, is the youngest.

STATE OF IRELAND.

An attempt was made yesterday afternoon to upset the train from Bally Brophy to Nenagh, conveying cattle dealers to the Nenagh Fair. A plank was laid across the rails and secured by a large stone, but the engine, being a heavy one, cut through the obstruction without being thrown off the line. The lifeguard was smashed, and the pipes and other parts of the engine suffered damage which will cost £40 to 50 to repair. An attempt had been made at a short distance from the plank to displace one of the plates, but without success. A short time ago a threatening notice was sent to the company on account of the transmission of Boycotted cattle, but there were none in this train.

A sheriff's sale of cattle and sheep seized at the suit of Sir Robert L. Blosse for rent, was held on Thursday at Balla, county Mayo. A large force of constabulary attended, and the Land Leaguers mustered in considerable numbers, but made no attempt to mar the sale, and, after some spirited competition, the cattle put up were sold to friends of the detendant for £45 10s, which fully covered the amount of the decree and costs. This fact indicates a change in the locality, as there was no one present to bid on the part of the Emergency Committee of the Property Defence Association.

The tenants of Lord Rosse waited upon him on Thursday and asked for an abatement of 25 per cent in the rental. His Lordship expressed sympathy with the tenants, and offered a reduction of 15 per cent, but they were not satisfied with it, and have resolved to consult the Land League as to whether they will accept it.

A sale of cattle under seizure for rent took place on Friday, near Thurles. The defaulter was James Hayes, a prominent member of the Land League. Mr Goddard and other representatives of the Property Defence Association attended, and the auction passed off quietly. The full amount of the judgment and costs was realized. There was a large police force present, and also two companies of the 48th and 64th Regiments from Templemore.

A meeting of the tenantry of the Duke of Abercorn was announced to be held at St. Johnston, county Donegal, for the purpose of considering what attitude they should assume with respect to a memorial recently sent to his Grace praying for a reduction of rent. The agent had merely acknowledged the receipt of the memorial, and the meeting was summoned to consider what further steps should be taken. A considerable number of farmers attended at the Corn Market, and it was expected that there would be a large meeting, but no one seemed disposed to take the initiative, and after waiting for some time, the tenants dispersed without holding any meeting.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

—o—

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diptheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitations and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis &c.

Extracts from Medical Opinions.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See Lancet, Dec. 31st, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq. late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay. 'Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed.

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (December 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collin Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera. 'So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, August 1st, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne, that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION. None genuine without the words 'Dr. J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
